

New Year's Eve Pirates of Clovelly ~ 'A party with a difference'

Arrive by sea or by carriage to a warm welcome of grog, to a 17th century naval recipe, and homemade pirate hat pies. Settle into your room and prepare to be transported back to a time when there were pirates at Clovelly. Do join in the fun - there are prizes for the best dressed male & female pirates – judged by Captain Jack himself!

The Innkeeper, bar boy and wenches will be on hand to welcome you into the Red Lion Harbour Bar where there'll be some debauchery, sword fights and fun before dinner.

An impressive Pirates table awaits you in the newly refurbished Harbour Restaurant, stocked full of tempting morsels from the deep and the land. Go back as many times as you wish until such time as you feel truly fulfilled. After dinner there will be a disco (look out For Jack Sparrow), and don't forget to order your champagne for midnight.

Have your cameras at the ready, as there will be fires and gunpowder to illuminate the quay and celebrate another year's passing. At 1am we will serve cold platters, then when you're ready, retire to bed for what's left of the night.

1st January

Between 9am and 10.30am

Awake back into present day Clovelly. Join your friends for a leisurely brunch 'Clovelly style.' Then sail away, or stay for a few more nights of indulgence.
